

Embedded Computing describes to operate computers as a part of a system like inside of a machine.

Embedded Computing includes industrial Operating-Systems, Software-Tools, application software and different hardware platforms.

All this to control, process and store data in rough ambient type of applications like Industrial Automation, Transportation, Medical and Military.

The Embedded Computing Conference has grown to one of the important conferences of the industry.

Hundreds of specialists brief them self's at the numerous presentations, the table show and network through the whole conference day.

Date 5. September 2017

Venue: ZHAW School of Engineering Campus, Technikumstrasse 9, 8401 Winterthur

Schedule:

31.03.2017 - Application deadline Exhibitors and Speakers

02.06.2017 – Definitives Programm available

15.06.2017 - Sending invitations

31.08.2017 - Application deadline for visitors

More Details under: <http://swisst.net/ecc17.html>